SCI PROGRAM 2027

Background:

The SCI CPTC Network's main goals are:

- to support harmonization in clinical practice of genetic counseling and testing for cancer predispositions
- to consolidate the collaboration with those members, who are Specialists offering genetic counselling and ordering testing (cf Regulation).

Due to the rapid scientific and technological progress in the genetic field, continuous education is very important. The CPTC Network propose to have, in addition to the annually basic genetic courses in Switzerland, a collaborative inter-professional case conference in order to discuss and share guidelines for an adapted management of mutation-carrier individuals and the assessment of genetic cancer risk (i.e. continuous education for regular members).
